Our Location

We have an exhibition Garden in Coldwater, on U. S. Highway, No. 112 where we grow about 4,000 plants each season. This year we will have 1,000 plants growing in a SUNRAYTEX cloth house. Field stock will be grown at our residence, 405 Jay Street.

We also maintain a Garden consisting of over 2,000 dahlias in The INTERNATIONAL FRIENDSHIP GARDENS at Michigan City, Indiana. Here we will also have a large planting of dahlias in a SUNRAYTEX cloth house.

Visitors are cordially invited to visit our Gardens at any time, especially during the blooming season. Here you will find all the varieties listed in this catalogue, also some of the new ones which we have on trial, growing and in full bloom.

Visit The International Friendship Gardens

THE INTERNATIONAL FRIENDSHIP GARDENS are located one and one-half (1½) miles east of Michigan City, Indiana, on U.S. No. 12. This is a permanent world-wide Horticultural and Floricultural Exposition, the only thing of its kind in existence, covering one hundred acres of hills and vales where once the Indians held their powwows, and where Father Marquette made friends with them in 1675. Preserving its places rich in history, it now becomes the site for this noted exposition.

ANNUAL DAHLIA SHOW Will Open in August and continue until frost.

JOIN A DAHLIA SOCIETY

If you are not already a member, join and support your local or State Dahlia Society. You can also join the American Dahlia Society. The dues of $2.00 yearly includes a year's subscription to the A.D.S. quarterly bulletin. This bulletin is well informed with helpful hints given by well known growers, amateur and commercial. The membership dues should be sent to C. Louis Alling, 251 Court Street, West Haven, Conn.

DAHLIA CULTURE

SOIL — Dahlias will grow in any soil provided there are sufficient plant foods in the soil to supply the needs for proper growth. Many soils can be improved to grow better dahlias. A heavy soil or clay may be improved by the addition of sand and the use of quantities of rotted manure and peat.

FERTILIZER — Before adding plant foods, have your soil tested to determine deficiencies. Generally, 5 to 10 pounds per 100 square feet of a fertilizer analyzing 4-12-4, or thereabouts, will meet most requirements, if the soil has already had organic material added to it. After the first of August, when the plants are beginning to show flower buds, "feeding" with small amounts of nitrogenous fertilizers, once or twice, will favor the development of larger flowers and more vigorous plants.

DIVISION — Never plant a "clump" of roots. Divide the clump carefully into a number of parts so that each division will have one sound, healthy tuber, and one or two plump buds.

PLANTING — For exhibition flowers, dahlias should be planted at least 3 feet apart each way. Dwarf varieties for bedding and varieties used for landscape effect may be planted closer. Dwarf singles, as Coltness Gem, should be planted 12 to 14 inches apart for best bedding effects. Dig the holes at least 6 inches deep. Place the tuber horizontally in the bottom of the hole with the bud an inch or so from the stake. Cover the roots with about 2 to 3 inches of soil. As the plants grow the hole may be filled in by cultivating.

STAKING — Five to six foot stakes will be required to support tall growing varieties. The stakes should be set in at the time of planting. If you wait until later to drive in the stakes, much damage may be done to the roots of the plants.

PRUNING — Large-flowered types and bedding types should have the tips of the plants cut out when they have reached a height of 8 to 12 inches. Cactus varieties are often permitted to grow until the first bud appears. These are then pinched out to encourage the growth of the laterals. For exhibition flowers, allow only 3 or 4 branches to develop. Remove side buds and all laterals, except those at the bottom, from each of the branches.

WATERING — If "green plants" are planted, water carefully for the first 2 weeks. Through July never allow the soil to dry out sufficiently to cause a checking of the growth. After the first of August and until early or mid-September, dahlias will require plenty of water. If the soil is well drained, there is not much danger of overwatering. Throughout the summer on dry, hot days, the plants will be much benefited by a thorough syringing in the late afternoon.

DIGGING — After the first heavy frost, the tops of the plants will blacken and dry. A few days to a week after a frost the tops should be cut off and the clumps dug up. They should be carefully dried off in the sun for several hours before being stored.

STORAGE — Store the tubers in dry granulated peat in a cool place. The best storage temperature is about 45 degrees Fahrenheit. The storage atmosphere should be moist enough to prevent excess drying of the roots and at the same time not so moist as to encourage mold or storage rots.

In the fall when your dahlias are blooming, enter some blooms in the Dahlia Shows near you. You will have lots of pleasure and will learn much about dahlias at the exhibitions.
